Fol. 11½ in. Dutch. Gothic letter. A block book consisting of 62 leaves printed on one side of the paper only, partly from wood blocks, partly with movable types. Without numeration, signatures or catchwords. Leaves 1-4 contain the preface, and table, printed in long lines, 34 to the page leaves 5-62 the text in 2 columns (25 to 27 lines). At the top of each page is a woodcut divided, by a gothic column, into two compartments, each containing a separate subject with an inscription in Latin. According to Brunet this is the first Dutch edition of the Speculum. Certainly the woodcuts in this copy denote by their clearness and sharp detail an early impression. Brunet v. 478.

 I am led to attribute this book to the press of Robert Waldegrave from the peculiarity in the signatures. The first leaf of each gathering has the signature letter only, the second and third leaves are marked 2 and 3 without any letter, the fourth leaf is unsigned. This method of signing the sheets is found in Waldegrave's books printed both in England and Scotland, and so far as I am aware was not adopted by any other printer of that period.

Obl. fol. 10 in. A series of 23 woodcuts, numbered I-XXIII., coloured, representing the burning of the castles by the Swabian League in 1523. There is no letterpress, except the numbering and a line or two of type printed on the sky of each cut giving the name of the castle, its situation, and date of burning. The date of the engravings is probably within a short time after the events recorded which took place in June and July of 1523. I have been unable to find any reference to this exceedingly rare and curious collection.

 This is the first complete edition of the Babylonian Talmud. Daniel Bomberg was born in Antwerp and settled as a printer in Venice. He was a Christian, but printed a large number of Hebrew books, of which the great Biblia Rabbinica (1516-7) and this Talmud are perhaps the most noted. He died in 1549. On the fly-leaf at the beginning of each volume are a statement of contents in German and Latin, and notes. Complete copies of this edition are very rare. Copies are usually made up of this and the 2nd edition (1526-48): see next entry.
